Breaking News: Vero Beach is destroyed!

VERO BEACH – The city of Vero Beach lies in ruins, bodies lay in the streets with the road in construction signs which they had come to hate so much. Reports from officials officially announced that the city of Vero Beach was attacked and destroyed with out warning on the morning of December 21, 2012 at 9:12p.m. At this time a half a million are confirmed dead or missing. According to FoxNews.com, “This attack on a small town in Florida proves that we were safer while President George W. Bush was in office. Oh by the way, President Hillary Clinton sucks; let’s find some reason to impeach her!”

Commentator Bill O'Reilly during his television show on Fox News has this to say about the destruction of Vero Beach, “Shut up, the liberal media is making a big deal out of this. We are still safe from terrorists, this was just a fluke. I know that if former President Bush was still in office and if we would have invaded Canada and if we would have voided the Bill of Rights like Mr. Bush suggested while he was still in office, we would till be in a perfect little world.” Other news outlets like MSNBC and Google News have a much different out look on this situation. CNN reports that we are not safe from the terrorists, and we need to take action to protect our selves.

One method suggested by the Administrator of Protect America group, was to secure the boarder by replacing the virtual fences that surround this country. “We don’t have enough man power to stop every one from walking over, I suggest that we create our own Great Wall of China, but we will call it The Great Wall of America". Declared Sean T on national television last night, "This is the only way we can truly be safe, and still keep the rights that we have come to know and appreciate!" This idea, which has been suggested by others while President Bush was in office, was vetoed last time former President Bush, the only thing that he vetoed by his entire term.
